IREX's Research Scholar Application

Exchange Visitor Information

Exchange Visitor Contact Information

The following information will be used to create a SEVIS record and DS-2019 form for the exchange visitor, should their application be approved, and to ship the DS-2019 to the exchange visitor. SEVIS is an online government system where each exchange visitor to the United States has a record that is updated by their sponsor throughout the program.

Exchange Visitor Qualifications and Immigration History

The information from this section will be used to assess the exchange visitor's basic eligibility to visit the United States as a J-1 research scholar. Some information must be input to SEVIS when creating the DS-2019.

Highest degree level obtained

PhD degree (doctorate)

Academic field of study (discipline) for the most recent degree obtained

Computer Science and Electrical Engineering

Is the Exchange Visitor currently employed or a student?

Yes

Exchange Visitor's current employer or university

Seoul National University

Which best describes the exchange visitor's current occupation?

University researcher or professor

Has the exchange visitor been in the U.S. on a J-1 or J-2 visa during the past 2 years?

No

English Language Proficiency

J-1 regulations require that "the exchange visitor possesses sufficient proficiency in the English language, as determined by an objective measurement of English language proficiency, successfully to participate in his or her program and to function on a day-to-day basis," including the ability to understand their rights and responsibilities, and to obtain help if they need it. Sponsors are required to screen the English language proficiency and maintain documentation of this determination.

Please select an option below for how the exchange visitor will demonstrate their English language proficiency. At the end of the application, you will be asked to upload related evidence of this selection, such as an assessment score, transcript or copy of degree showing study in an English-speaking country, letter from an academic institution to certify language of instruction was in English, or evidence from the exchange visitor's current J-1 sponsor documenting their English clearance.

IREX must receive the interview results or other proof of English language proficiency before proceeding with the application.

Scholars who cannot demonstrate English language proficiency through one of the options below may have their language certified through a documented interview conducted by English 3, a provider used by numerous universities and other J-1 sponsoring entities. The interview takes about 25 minutes, can be conveniently scheduled for any time zone, and takes 1-5 days to receive results. The cost is $99 for most countries, $129 for China due to internet requirements.

In what way will the Exchange Visitor demonstrate their English language proficiency?

Previous study (for at least 1 semester) at an accredited university in an English-speaking country

Exchange Program and Host Information

Exchange Program Category

There are numerous "categories" of exchange visitors under the Exchange Visitor Program. Each J-1 category has different immigration requirements for authorized activities, eligibility, program duration, and repeat participation in future exchange programs. A summary of research scholar information is below. Language cited in this section is from the U.S. Department of State's BridgeUSA website.

IREX advises all exchange visitor applicants to review the above website and compare the definitions and restrictions between different J-1 categories prior to finalizing their application. They should be sure the requested category aligns with their purpose in the United States and qualifications.

Research Scholar

Research Scholar activities and purpose:

This category is for a foreign national who enters the United States for the primary purpose of conducting research, observing or consulting in connection with research projects at research institutions, corporate research facilities, museums, libraries, post-secondary accredited academic institutions, or similar types of institutions. A research scholar may also teach or lecture, unless disallowed by the sponsor. The research scholar's appointment to a position shall be temporary.

The exchange of research scholars promotes the exchange of ideas, research, mutual enrichment and linkages between research and academic institutions in the United States and foreign countries. Scholars facilitate the exchange of ideas and research in a variety of fields between people of the United States and people of other countries.

Research Scholars must not:

1. Be a candidate for a tenure track or other permanent position.
2. Have participated in a J-1 or J-2 visa program during at least 6 months of the prior 12 months (preceding the program begin date) unless they are a J-1 transfer, or were a short-term scholar.
3. Have participated in and completed another J-1 program in the research scholar category within the last 24 months preceding the requested start date of the program in this application.

Research Scholar program duration and repeat participation:

A research scholar may participate in their program for a maximum of 5 continuous years. If the initial period of the program is less than 5 years, the program can be extended up to the 5-year maximum. Once the program completes (regardless of whether the 5-year maximum was reached), the research scholar is ineligible to return as a research scholar for 24 months.

Research Scholar qualifications:

A research scholar must have appropriate academic credentials. They would commonly have an advanced degree, but a minimum of a Bachelor's degree is required as well as relevant experience in the research field.

Do the scholar's qualifications and proposed activities in the United States align with the research scholar criteria above?

Yes

Program Dates

For visa purposes, the "program dates" are not the same as the dates of travel to/from the United States. The program start date indicated in this application should be the estimated date that a visiting scholar will start to officially engage with their host organization. It can include any orientation provided by the host. If the scholar is being paid by the host, the program start date is the same as the first date of payment and the program end date is the last day.

The program dates will reflect on the scholar's DS-2019 form.

Important: J-1 Scholars must arrive to the United States within 30 days of their program start date, or else take action with IREX to change their dates (otherwise their program status will become "invalid").

Please note, the program start date indicated in the application must beat least six weeks after the date this application is submitted to IREX to allow for application, visa, and travel processes.

Travel Dates: Exchange visitors may arrive in the United States up to 30 days in advance of their program start date to support their transition and getting settled. Similarly, they may remain in the United States for an additional 30 days following the program end date to pack, close accounts, and otherwise get their affairs in order (or take some vacation) prior to exiting the country. These 30-day "grace periods" are not work-authorized.

Please contact IREX (jvisaexchange@irex.org) for any questions about program or travel dates, or any change in the dates due to travel delays.

Host Organization and Supervisor

Understanding the Roles of the Sponsor and the Host Organization

As the "sponsor" of exchange programs, IREX screens prospective exchange program applications, manages DS-2019 issuance, and advises scholars prior to and throughout their stay on topics such as immigration, travel, and other questions related to their visa status. IREX also is responsible to the U.S. Department of State to ensure that there is monitoring of programs, that opportunities for cultural exchange are integrated into the program, and that other visa regulations are followed. IREX must annually report to the Department of State on the programs under its sponsorship.

IREX is able to sponsor research scholars or short-term scholars who participate in exchange programs at third-party host organizations which are approved by IREX and with whom we have a written agreement. After reviewing this application (and assuming eligibility), IREX will issue a program agreement for the host organization and visiting scholar to sign which outlines roles, responsibilities, terms, and conditions that all parties must commit to.

Not being based physically on site with the exchange visitor, IREX's ability to sponsor such programs in compliance to visa regulations will depend on excellent, reliable communication with the host organization throughout the program. The host and the scholar are expected to notify IREX in case of any anticipated changes to the program outlined in this application. Failure to keep IREX informed during the program may result in termination.

The following information will help IREX to understand and assess the exchange visitor's proposed host organization and their research program there:

Dr. Lee will conduct research in future datacenter infrastructure design with a particular emphasis on making artificial intelligence (AI) more scalable and energy-efficient. Specifically, he will design the memory subsystem for future datacenter infrastructure. He will conduct algorithmic analysis for emerging AI workloads. Dr. Lee will also improve the performance of AI applications in both hardware and software. Lastly, he will evaluate emerging memory/storage technologies and create a technology roadmap for future generations of datacenters.

Program Funding

One of IREX's responsibilities as sponsor is to verify all prospective exchange visitors have access to sufficient funding to cover their living expenses (and those of any accompanying family members) throughout the length of their program.

The Department of State asks sponsors to input a verifiable amount of funding available for this program in the exchange visitor's SEVIS Record and DS-2019 form, as well as to name the party (or parties) providing the funding.

In the application section below, please indicate the amount of funding the exchange visitor will receive, per year, from each party funding them.

- Please indicate the amount in U.S. dollars using a PER YEAR rate.

If funding is not in U.S. dollars, please do a currency conversion through www.oanda.com and input the approximate USD amount. You can round down to the nearest dollar.

What is the minimum proof of funding to demonstrate? This varies by U.S. region and also depends on if the scholar is bringing family members with them. IREX consults the MIT Living Wage Calculator to determine the minimum amount of annual funding needed for an individual or family per that geographic area.

If funded fully by the host organization:

- Many exchange visitors on IREX programs are fully funded by their host organization, and in most cases this exceeds IREX's funding standards
- In this case, simply input the host's funding in the form below and no further information is required.

If funded by other sources:

- Scholars who are funded by other sources (for example a scholarship, or a sabbatical salary from their home country employer), or for whom the host's funding does not meet the minimum standards, should input information about that funding below.
- Applicants must upload proof of the alternative funding at the end of the application, with English translation if applicable. Typical proof of funding is an official letter of award (with specific funding amount) from party providing the funding and/or copy of scholar's bank statement(s).
- The exchange visitor will also be expected to bring their proof of funding with them to their visa application appointment at the U.S. embassy.

Is the Host Organization providing funding for this program?

Yes

Funding Amount the Host Organization will Provide PER YEAR of Program in $US.

$261,000

Is there any other source of funding for this program? For example, a scholarship or grant, etc.

No

Health Insurance, Insurance for Repatriation and Medical Evacuation

J-1 exchange visitors and any J-2 dependent family members are required to have medical insurance and emergency travel coverage for the duration of their program in the U.S. There are generally two parts to this: health insurance (to visit the doctor, go to a hospital, etc.) and medical evacuation and repatriation insurance (special travel back to the home country in case of medical emergency or death). This section of the application will collect information on how the scholar intends to comply with these requirements. It is not necessary to purchase a policy prior to traveling to the United States, but the scholar and/or host should do the research now as to which policy they plan to use.

J Visa Regulations for Insurance

The U.S. Department of State specifies J-1/J-2 insurance plans must include coverage for the following minimum benefits:

1. Medical benefits of at least $100,000 per accident or illness;
2. Repatriation of remains in the amount of $25,000;
3. Expenses associated with the medical evacuation of the exchange visitor to his or her home country in the amount of $50,000; and
4. A "deductible" not to exceed $500 per accident or illness.

An insurance policy secured to fulfill the requirements of this section:

1. May require a waiting period for pre-existing conditions which is reasonable as determined by current industry standards;
2. May include provision for co-insurance under the terms of which the exchange visitor may be required to pay up to 25% of the covered benefits per accident or illness; and
3. Shall not unreasonably exclude coverage for perils inherent to the activities of the exchange program in which the exchange visitor participates.

An insurance policy secured to meet the benefits requirements must be underwritten by an insurance corporation with an A.M. Best rating of "A-" or above, an Insurance Solvency International, Ltd. (ISI) rating of "A-I" or above, a Standard and Poor's Claims Paying Ability rating of "A-" or above, or a Weiss Research, Inc. rating of B+ or above. (22 CFR 62.14)

Options to comply with visa requirements for insurance:

Typically exchange visitors insurance is organized under one of the following four models:

- All insurance provided by host policies: Host organization provides health insurance (must verify that their company policy deductible is $500 or less per individual) + host organization provides a travel or accident policy that covers the repatriation and medical evacuation.
- Host organization provides health insurance (must offer option with deductible of $500 or per individual) + exchange visitor enrolls in a supplemental policy that covers the repatriation and medical evacuation. The combination of policies satisfies visa requirements.
- Exchange visitor enrolls in a health insurance policy on their own and enrolls in a supplemental, separate repatriation and medical evacuation policy. The combination of policies satisfies visa requirements.
- Exchange visitor enrolls in a single policy on their own that includes health insurance as well as repatriation and medical evacuation coverage. One policy covers all requirements.

Host Organizations may choose to reimburse an exchange visitor's costs related to insurance enrollment, but they are not obligated to do so by J visa regulations. Ultimately, the exchange visitor is responsible to hold insurance that meets above requirements, and to renew such insurance if necessary during the course of the program. If hosts reimburse costs, they do so as a courtesy, not due to visa regulations.

We know insurance can be confusing so please contact IREX with any questions (jvisaexchange@irex.org).

Please indicate below the exchange visitor's intended plan to meet medical insurance and repatriation / medical evacuation requirements. At the end of the application, you will be asked to upload a summary of the policy's benefits, or a letter from the Host Organization's Benefits Specialist, to demonstrate how the policy complies with the above requirements. The policy must be purchased and active by the program start date. Scholars are responsible to renew their insurance throughout the program.

Which party will provide the scholar's health insurance?

Host Organization

If "other," please state the party providing health insurance

Please name the health insurance carrier(s) and policy the scholar intends to enroll in which complies with J visa requirements.

BlueCross Anthem PPO

Which party will provide the scholar's repatriation and medical evacuation insurance?

Scholar

If "other," please state the party providing the repatriation/evacuation coverage.

Please name the repatriation/evacuation insurance carrier policy the scholar intends to enroll in.

Program Fees and Billing Information

After program agreements are signed, and usually within 1 month after a DS-2019 is issued, IREX will share an invoice for its fees associated with J visa sponsorship services. Some applicants choose to pay fees in advance; if you did so, please indicate it where requested below. All initial research scholar applications will be billed a sponsorship fee and SEVIS fee, whereas the rush processing fee and J-2 sponsorship fee are only billed if the service is requested.

Research Scholar Sponsorship Fee

- Varies by length of sponsorship $2,500 for the first year of sponsorship (or any period of time up to 12 months) *$500 per year for each subsequent year (or any period of time up to 12 months) For example, a 9-month program is $2,500. A 12-month program is $2,500. A 15-month program is $3,000. And so on.

I-901 SEVIS Fee: $220

- One-time government fee for the scholar's SEVIS record. IREX will pay this fee on the scholar's behalf but will seek reimbursement.
- Usually the company covers this fee but it could be paid by the scholar.
- Does not apply to J-2 dependents.*

Optional Rush Processing Fee: $600

- Applies ONLY if the applicant requests processing in 10 business days (standard processing is 15 business days)*

J-2 Dependent Sponsorship Fee

- Applies ONLY if the visiting scholar requests J-2 visa sponsorship for their spouse and/or unmarried children to accompany them to the United States $500 per person for the first year (any period of time up to 12 months) *$250 per person for each subsequent 12-month period (or any period of time up to 12 months)

See our pricing table below to help you calculate your cost:

Number of Years/ Number of J-2s	1 Year	2 Years	3 Years	4 Years	5 Years
1 J-2	$500	$750	$1000	$1250	$1500
2 J-2s	$1000	$1500	$2000	$2500	$3000
3 J-2s	$1500	$2250	$3000	$3750	$4500
4 J-2s	$2000	$3000	$4000	$5000	$6000

ABOUT ME

Hi, im Filip and Im 23. I did a lot of charity and voluntery work at my university, for example with friends we raised money for animals in shelters and orginized blood donations which saved lifes of many people. I also love nature, mainly mountains and im always thinking of the next place I might discover. I make people feel comfortable, I'm very helpful and optimistic, I always smile and make people laugh, so I think I can get along with just everybody. I have big arachnofobia, so I'm terrified of spiders. I'm trying to fight this and put myself in uncomfortable situations, but the fear is still there unfortunately. I think I'll be great addition to a team and I hope that we will create awesome memories together.

ABOUT ME

Hi, im Filip and Im 23. I did a lot of charity and voluntery work at my university, for example with friends we raised money for animals in shelters and orginized blood donations which saved lifes of many people. I also love nature, mainly mountains and im always thinking of the next place I might discover. I make people feel comfortable, I'm very helpful and optimistic, I always smile and make people laugh, so I think I can get along with just everybody. I have big arachnofobia, so I'm terrified of spiders. I'm trying to fight this and put myself in uncomfortable situations, but the fear is still there unfortunately. I think I'll be great addition to a team and I hope that we will create awesome memories together.
